Outsourced IT Compliance Support

The increasing number and complexity of regulations, as well as the constant pressure to reduce your operating costs makes outsourcing your compliance efforts to an experienced partner a logical strategy.

We have a great deal of experience working with businesses in a number of industries, helping them put the technology and processes in place to remain compliant.
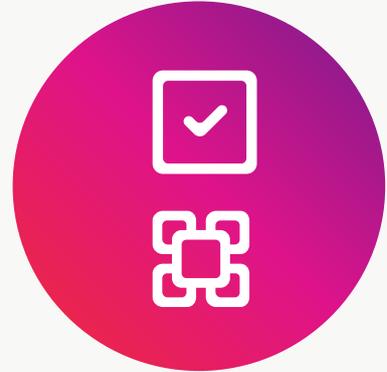

The increasing number and complexity of regulations, the shortage of qualified talent in the technology space and the constant pressure to reduce operating costs makes outsourcing your compliance requirements a good choice.

The pressure to be compliant comes from the regulator, as well as from your customers and investors who view non-compliance as a serious issue.

We can work closely with you and other stakeholders to ensure that your technology meets current compliance standards. That could be ensuring that your IT infrastructure meets PCI standards, for example, or your data centre meets ISO standards.

Outsourced IT Compliance Support Benefits

Outsourcing compliance tasks to specialists frees up internal resources and helps you focus on your service delivery.

Instead of having to invest extensively in training your existing team in compliance matters, which often results in sub-optimal compliance processes, you can keep them focussed on activities that improve your service delivery and rely on an outsourced provider to focus on your compliance.

Lower your costs and reduce your risk.

By outsourcing your compliance services to an experienced team of experts, you significantly reduce your compliance costs, while at the same time reducing the risk to your business of investing in the wrong technology.

Get access to a team of highly experienced, knowledgeable engineers, all directly employed.

Keeping up with compliance rules can be very time and resource intensive. By outsourcing, you get the benefit of access to a group of highly experienced, knowledgeable engineers who keep up with and can help guide decisions about technology changes that need to be adopted.

Full range of IT services ensures that regulatory changes are implemented on time across the entire organisation.

Rolling out technology to meet compliance regulations can be difficult to do. If you outsource more of your IT services to us, we will be in a much better position to help roll out compliance changes as part of any overarching IT strategy.
