

Outsourced IT Project Services

To adapt and grow you need to invest in your IT infrastructure and the best way to do that is by carrying out well-defined IT Projects.

Those projects come with some risk, but the best way to reduce your risk is to partner with an organisation that has a team of proven, highly accredited and experienced engineers who will ensure that your project is delivered on time, to specification and on budget. This will help ensure that you enjoy a quick and positive return on your investment.

Our team of experienced engineers and project managers will work closely with you to take you through your entire outsourced IT project life cycle, from understanding your needs and scope, to successful delivery and review.

Example outsourced IT projects include:

- ✧ Outsourced server migrations and server virtualisations.
- ✧ Migrations to Hybrid, Private and Public Cloud infrastructure.
- ✧ Office and IT relocations.
- ✧ New site openings.
- ✧ Unified communication rollouts.

We have the proven skills, knowledge and ability to help you manage the change within your organisation, while delivering IT projects on time, with as little disruption as possible and within the agreed budget.

Outsourced IT Project Service Benefits

-  Your outsourced IT project is delivered on time, on budget and to specification.

Our experienced IT team use their advanced skillsets and extensive knowledge built up over many years to ensure that your IT project is delivered as planned. We will work hard to make sure that you get the IT solution that you need to transform your business.
-  Your business enjoys improved operational capabilities.

You can have greater confidence that your new outsourced IT project will bring about the change that you need to helping reduce your costs, improve your productivity, make you more competitive and ultimately transform your business.
-  You enjoy a better return on your investment

By outsourcing your project delivery to an experienced team, your complex IT projects can be delivered quicker and with less disruption to your business. That means that your team are not affected or taken away from other important tasks and it means that you will be able to start using and taking advantage of your new IT solution sooner. This will ensure a better and faster return on your IT investment.
-  You have reduced risk and reduced costs

By engaging with expert engineers who have a lot of experience and exposure to similar projects, you are less likely to be affected by unforeseen issues that could potentially impact on the successful delivery of your new technology. By outsourcing your IT project, the upfront cost may be higher than if you used an internal resource, but the time saved and the hassle avoided will mean reduced costs for you and your business.

Outsource your IT Project for an improved return on investment.

Our experienced engineering team will ensure that your IT Project is successfully delivered.
